Technology and Emergency Management

This presentation is an overview, in story format, of how the City of Torrance overcame a cyber incident at the very start of the Covid-19 Pandemic and the following civil unrest by the leveraging of readily unspecified available technology. Commercial Off the Shelf (COTS) programs enabled the City of Torrance to create new communication pathways. They removed innate silos that naturally occur in a typical city working environment.

10:50 A.M

Share you Challenges and Best Practices!
